Chinese Lion Dancers, German Band Join Throng in Labor Day Parade

by Sandra Smith

The 1990 Labor Day Festival Parade promises to be a special event with many musical unit groups, floats, majorettes, antique cars, dancers, community groups, and local officials. Two groups making their first appearance in Greenbelt's Labor Day Parade are the Chinese Lion Dancers and the Alte Kameraden German Band. Old favorites returning to the parade include: Potomac River Jazz Club, Blackthorn Stick Irish Dancers, Potowmack Ancient Fife and Drum Corps, and the Prince Georges Police Pipe Band.

In the performance of the Chinese Lion Dancers a lion is led by musicians and colorful banners down the parade route. The lion dancers often perform in ceremonial functions in the District of Columbia. Another group of exotic performers, also making its first Greenbelt appearance, is the Alte Kameraden German Band. This 15-member band, riding an antique fire engine, makes regular appearances in the Cherry Blossom Parade. The Potowmack Ancient Fife & Drum Corps, celebrates its 15th anniversary marching in the Greenbelt Parade. This group performs in many events along the east coast, most recently with Willard Scott on the Today Show.

The Potomac River Jazz Club was last year's 3rd place winner in the music division and garnered a first-place marching band award in the 1989 Fairfax Independence Day Parade. Parade watchers enjoyed the group's traditional jazz sounds. The Prince Georges Police Pipe Band is another award-winning band, who will also be performing at the Prince Georges County Fair. Sounds of the Irish abound with the Dunloggin Irish Band and the Blackthorn Stick Irish Dancers.

The Governor and Louis Governor William Donald Schaefer and Comptroller Louis Goldstein will be greeting Greenbelters in the parade. From Congress, expect to see Senator Paul Sarbanes and Representative Steny Hoyer. Closer to home, the Maryland State delegation is led by State Senator Leo Green and includes Delegates Joan Pitkin, Buzz Ryan and Mary Conroy. County Council member Richard Castaldi will also be appearing in the parade, as will County

Executive Parris Glendening. School Board member, Greenbelt's Suzanne Plogman, will be riding in the parade. From the City of Greenbelt, Mayor Gil Weidenfeld and City Council members Tom White, Toni Bram, Joe Isaacs, and Ed Putens will be in the parade.

A special honoree in the parade will be the 1990 Outstanding Citizen, who serves as the parade's Grand Marshal. On Friday evening during the Festival's Opening Ceremonies, the Outstanding Citizen for the year will be announced. Walt Starling, popular deejay on W-LITE, will return as Parade Master of Ceremonies.

The 1990 Miss Greenbelt and her court and this year's Little Miss Greenbelt and pageant contestants will be featured in the parade on floats with a country and western flair. This will be the last opportunity to bid farewell to Alicia Derin, Miss Greenbelt for 1989.

The WAVA Music Machine and WAVA Party Posse will entertain for the first time in a Greenbelt Labor Day Parade. Maryland Natural Gas Community Klowns return for another appearance. Check out the Miller Bottle Truck in the parade and the College Park Bicycles Antique Car and Bicycle. Many of the classic cars in the parade are from the Potomac Classic Thunderbird Club and Group Corvair. Miriam Wolff's antique car makes a traditional appearance in the parade.

Majorettes

Majorettes offer exciting and skillful performances. For the first time, parade watchers will be entertained by the Dale City Starlettes. The group has won over 400 trophies since 1982 and has performed at the White House. See PARADE, page 9

Public Schools Open on Tuesday; 3,000 More Students Are Expected

by Barbara Likowski

Schools will open on Tuesday, September 4 for students in the Prince Georges County school system. 108,148 students are expected to enroll this year, an increase of about 3,000 over last year. This continues an upward trend that started with the introduction of the magnet schools in 1987. For the 1990-91 school year the county will operate 171 schools. So far 550 new teachers have been hired, 35% of whom are minorities.

A new aerospace program will open this fall at DuVal High School. The opening ceremony was held this morning at the school.

All magnet schools are full and have waiting lists. The magnet schools, which offer specialized programs, were instituted as a means of achieving racial integration. They were filled by lottery this year. Exceptions were the performing arts and TAG schools for which students need an audition or test.

The computer program in the comprehensive schools has gone up to the final level, sixth grade. By putting four computers in each sixth grade classroom, the school system has completed this program as a means of upgrading the non-magnet schools.

Multicultural Program

The major focus this year will be on restructuring, a moving away from homogenous and ability grouping to heterogenous grouping. Multicultural education will be stressed. This has been set up as a program to help students develop awareness, appreciation and understanding of the history, culture and contributions made by various groups within American society. The program will be instituted for kindergarten through twelfth grade and will be used in English, math, science, social studies, art and music.

A recent all-day meeting was held at Eleanor Roosevelt Senior High School to work out ways the program should be implemented. Each school in the county was represented by a team consisting of parents, administrators and teachers. Guests from other school systems were also present.

Superintendent John Murphy will also be coming up with a proposal and time line for how to implement recommendations for increasing black male achievement. This was the subject of another recent county school conference.

St. Hugh's School Opens

First graders will not attend the first week. They will be contacted for testing. There are still openings in the first grade.

Newcomers can register at the school before school opens.

Candidates Hit Trail to Win Votes for Primary Election

by Elaine Skolnik

In the upcoming primary election on Tuesday, September 11, registered voters in Greenbelt will help determine who will be their party's standardbearers in the November general election. Local interest centers on native son Richard Castaldi in his bid for reelection to the Prince Georges County Council and on City Councilwoman Antoinette ("Toni") Bram in her first run for state office.

Bram is seeking to capture one of three delegate seats now held by incumbent Democratic candidates Charles Ryan, Joan Pitkin and Mary Conroy, all of Bowie. Castaldi, former Greenbelt city councilman and mayor, is in a face-off with Bowie's Mayor Pro-tem G. Frederick Robinson in the Democratic primary. Faced with a tight race, both are out on the hustings, campaigning vigorously and taking nothing for granted. The city of Bowie holds about 51% of the registered voters of the Councilmanic and the 23rd Legislative Districts.

Shaping up as an intense contest is the State Senate race. Incumbent Leo Green and challenger Terezie ("Terry") Bohrer, both Democrats and residents of Bowie, are running energetic campaigns. Contending for the state senate seat also is Donna Jo Campbell of Bowie.

Other Greenbelters on the ballot are Mayor Pro-tem Thomas X. White, who is seeking reelection to the Democratic Central Committee for the 23rd Legislative District. Former Greenbelt William Aleshire also aspires for one of two places on the committee. Greenbelt William B. Johnson is a candidate for a slot on the Republican Central Committee from Legislative District 23.

In the Republican primary there is no competition for State Senator, House of Delegates and County Executive, Clerk of the Circuit Court, Judge of the Orphans Court, Sheriff and Republican Central Committee at Large in Legislative District 23.

Republicans have fielded candidates for the county council with Theodore Henderson and John H. Kallenberger pitted against each other. Democrats and Republicans will also select party candidates for United States Congress, Governor, and Comptroller.

Greenbelt Registration

Almost 8,426 residents are registered to vote in the four precincts which serve Greenbelt, down slightly from 1986 (about 75). Some 7,280 who are registered as Democrats or Republicans will be eligible to vote on September 11. About 1,145 voters declined to affiliate themselves with one of the major parties. These voters (known as "unaffiliated," "declines" or "independents") may vote only in nonpartisan elections, such as in an election for a member of the Board of Education. Because incumbent Suzanne Plogman of Greenbelt faces no opposition in her bid to be returned to the Board of Education, Greenbelt's "declines" will not have an opportunity to vote on September 11.

Compared with 1986, Greenbelt voter registration figures for 1990 show that the Democrats lost about 168 registrants while Republicans gained about 186. The ratio of Democrats to Republicans is now about 2.2 to 1. (2.5 to 1 in 1986).

Museum Open Labor Day

The Greenbelt Museum will be open to the public on Monday, Labor Day, September 3, immediately after the Labor Day Parade until 3 p.m. The Museum will also be open on Sunday, September 2 during its regular hours, from 1 to 5 p.m.

No Call-A-Bus Service To Operate on Labor Day

The Prince Georges County Office of Transportation will not be operating the county "Call-A-Bus" service on Labor Day. The county's other service, "The Bus," will operate on a normal weekday schedule.

Our Neighbors

by Linda Savaryn, 474-5285

Ruthlee Kolbe is recovering nicely at home after spending several days in a Boston area hospital. Ruthlee, a member of the Golden Age Club that was visiting Cape Cod, fell while inside the bus that was transporting the group home. She would be pleased, we're sure, to hear from friends and well-wishers.

Walter and Leonie Penney of Northway are delighted to announce the birth of their sixth grandchild, Walter Penney III. Walter Duane arrived on August 21, weighing in at 9½ pounds. He lives in Takoma Park, where he joins his 2-year-old sister Vanessa Leonie and his radiant parents, Walter Penney and Cheryl Brand.

It's a boy for Eva Garin and Jim Cowan of Lakeside Drive. Ethan Andrew Cowan was born on August 24, weighing 7 lbs., 12 ozs. Proud grandmother is former Greenbelter Sonia Garin of Bethesda.

Drennon Marie Hyde arrived on July 26 at Shady Grove Adventist Hospital in Rockville, weighing 8 lbs., 7 ozs. She is the daughter of Dawn Marie Hyde of Laurel Hill Road. Drennon's mother, by the way, graduated August 23 from the University of Maryland (University College) with a B.A. degree in business management. Congratulations.

HN Jeffrey L. Fortier, U.S.N., a 1986 graduate of Eleanor Roosevelt High School, has recently been reassigned from the Naval Medical Clinic at Annapolis, to deployment on the USNS Comfort to augment the medical support requirements for Operation Desert Shield in the Middle East. His mother, Carol Fortier, resides at Greenbriar.

Pvt. Richard M. Hyatte has graduated from the combat signaler course at the U.S. Army Signal School, Fort Gordon, Ga. Hyatte is the son of Ivory J. Hyatte, Hanover Parkway, and Sideila D. Stewart, Washington.

Congratulations to Carol Pelosi, who has earned a place on the United States Crossbow

Team, and will compete in the 5th World Field Crossbow Championship Tournament, which will be held on September 21 and 22 at the Aldeia Das Acotelas sports stadium in Algarve, Portugal. Carol, an active crossbow shooter since 1973, was the Women's World Crossbow Champion from 1982-88. She placed third at the World Championships in Sweden in 1988, has been the U.S. Women's Indoor Crossbow Champion since 1975, and was the U.S. Women's Outdoor National Crossbow Champion from 1973-1988. Carol has also appeared on television displaying her talent.

A profile of former Greenbelter, Vincent Caruso, appeared in the Deland Sun News (Florida) on July 24. While living in Greenbelt with his wife, Dorothy, and their four sons, Vincent was active in civic affairs, including PTA, Boy Scouts, and as president of the Greenbelt Band. In addition, he spearheaded and was chairman of the very first Greenbelt four day Festival in 1955. The funds raised during that festival were for the building of the Youth Center.

Greenbelter Tracey Martin has been signed to the women's basketball team of Incarnate Word College, San Antonio, Texas. The 6'2" transfer from George Mason University is a 60 percent shooter from the field and 75 percent from the free throw line.

Kathryn Labukas, Ridge Road, has been appointed coordinator of the Special Education Wing at Thomas Stone Elementary, Mt. Rainier.

Rudyard Wallace has been appointed Administrative Assistant at Eleanor Roosevelt High School.

Carl Choper, a former Greenbelt resident, was graduated May 29 from Reconstructionist Rabbinical College in Wyncote, PA and has assumed the position of rabbi of Congregation Beth Shalom in Mechanicsburg, PA as of September 1. Carl's parents Jordan and Eva Choper live on Northway.

SENIORS' SOFTBALL

by Jerry Conway

The Greenbelt Senior Slow Pitch Softball Team earned a championship playoff in the Maryland Senior Olympics Softball event at Towson University on October 5 and 6. The team defeated Hagerstown, Montgomery County and Bowie All Stars in a modified round robin state of Maryland playoff on Sunday, August 26 at Allen Pond in Bowie. Howard County All Stars will compete against the team in the Maryland Senior Olympics. Greenbelt will have a 17 or 18 member team in this championship playoff, and the winner will play for Maryland in the National Senior Olympic Championship series in New York in June 1991.

The following team members with excellent pitching, fielding and hitting enabled us to win: Bill Grennon, Hugh McEvoy, Ed Marr, Al Beard, Steve Illar, Charles Long, Ray Reed, Ed Mallon, John Sweeney, Bob Birch, Jim McGann and Jerry Conway.

Six members of the listed team did not participate in this playoff. All 18 members plan to play on October 5 and 6 at Towson, therefore, the team cannot add any new members for this event.

On September 13 the Greenbelt Co-Ed Softball Team will play in a co-ed championship game series against other Maryland co-ed teams in 55-age bracket. A list of 20 players to represent the team in these games has been submitted.

All senior citizens are invited to softball practice on Fridays at Braden Field at 9:30 a.m.

Reassuring

To the Editor:

First I would like to commend you for putting out a fine publication every week.

As a recently arrived neighbor I find your paper to be informative as well as relaxing reading. I have been reading every week to see if you were going to profile any other city employee as well as the city horticulturist. I found this article to be very interesting.

I spend a considerable amount of time talking and riding with the Greenbelt Police. The one common tool they all seem to cherish is their police cruiser. I recently had the chance to see first hand how these cars are specially equipped just for them and how they are maintained. I must tell you I was impressed. The city has an auto shop at the Public Works Dept. This is where these cars are maintained. These cars are always being improved on and new safety features are added.

Recently I saw the latest batch of new cars that were released by the auto shop. Upon talking to the officers assigned to these cars I found that major safety improvements were made this year at a savings of about $300; this was done by the mechanics making all of the wiring harnesses and doing all the painting and marking in house. I also learned that they are the only city shop in the area that does this type of work. It seems to me these men deserve some kind of recognition other than the loyalty of the officers.

It is reassuring to see that people still care about our city and its Police Dept. Perhaps you could do a profile on the city mechanic. I feel that your readers would find this very interesting. It takes the people behind the scenes to make Greenbelt great too.

Thank you for your time and keep up the good work.

GEAC Meeting Focuses on Recycling; How? When? Who Is Included?

by Pat Scully

City and county staff members responsible for recycling attended the August 2 meeting of the Greenbelt East Advisory Coalition (GEAC) at Windsor Green to talk about the issues and time frame for recycling. The homeowners associations that make up GEAC do not contract with the city for trash service and will not be part of the city's recycling program. They need to reach their own agreement with their trash hauler or the county for recycling services.

Are Condos Single-Family?

Jennifer Mack, from the county recycling office, addressed the question whether "multifamily" dwellings, such as apartment-style condominiums like Greenbriar, would be included in the county's recycling plan. Yes, they will, Mack told the meeting. Under legislation establishing the county's program, the distinction rests on ownership, not type of building, so that condominiums will be collected by the county. Owners of buildings that are all rental properties must develop their own recycling plan.

This issue had not been clear in previous meetings, including the city's public hearings on recycling. Mack promised that the county would write a letter clarifying that condominiums, along with townhouses, are "single-family dwellings" for recycling purposes.

Will Trash Hauler Recycle?

The contractor who handles trash for most of the associations, B&B Refuse, told Greenwood Village that they do not have the trucks or staff to take on recycling. Dave Helmecki, of the city's Public Works Department, said that city staff were available to help the associations establish a program and work with them to encourage their hauler to recycle. Much discussion of the economics of recycling from the perspective of the small trash hauler ensued, encompassing tipping fees, tonnage, trucks, trailers and the market for materials.

"All of the associations are ready and willing to recycle," concluded Charlene MacAdams of Greenwood Village, "but we don't much care who picks up the materials." Homeowners want to know how to sort their trash for recycling and whether recyclables will be picked up curbside, at the rear entrance, from trash rooms or at a dumpster. Who takes it away is not a concern. MacAdams, who served on the city's citizen advisory panel on recycling, suggested that the city and county staff meet with the contractors. She saw no point in homeowners associations being involved.

Other Recycling Questions

GEAC members asked when the county will start picking up recyclables. Mack answered that service is being phased in across the county over the next two years. She said that collection could begin as early as January 1991 in Greenbelt.

Hunting Ridge is currently participating in the county's pilot program, which covers 15 different housing situations and collection systems. Information gleaned from the pilot program will be compiled in a manual that the county will use in its public education efforts as the recycling program expands.

Another question asked was whether the city and county had procurement rules that encourage recycling. How much does the city government recycle and how much of its paper purchases are of recycled paper? Under the county's rules, said Mack, departments can buy recycled paper if the price is within 10 percent of the price of virgin paper. All xerographic paper is recycled.

At the city level, said Helmecki, different departments have different policies. Public Works uses recycled paper but other departments are resisting, he said. Schrom Hills Park James Foy of Hunting Ridge, GEAC chair, and Sheldon Goldberg of Windsor Green, vice-chair, updated the meeting on the 60 percent design plans for Schrom Hills Park, as presented at city council's special session on July 24. Foy described the course of the 8-foot-wide hiker/biker trail and of the 6-foot-wide path at the edge of the soccer and softball fields.

He noted that lighting for the softball field was not included in the current plans, although it may be included in final plans or added at a later date. After a discussion of the cost-effectiveness of running conduits for the wiring now, before the field is installed, Foy was directed to check with city staff to see if the conduits could be included in the plans without a final decision on the lighting being made.

No bids will be requested for construction work until the city acquires all of the land for the park. Owners of the Steiner property, which will be part of the park, have obtained a delay until December in the city's condemnation suit for the property. Thus, no work will begin until at least February.

Fire-Retardant Roofing

Katie Calder of Greenbrook Village gave an update on the legal issues involved with fire-retardant plywood used in roofs. The material is susceptible to a fungal-like growth which can cause structural damage if not detected early and treated. Many of the developments in Greenbelt East, as well as throughout the county, have such fire-retardant roofs. A lawyer specializing in the problem met with the Greenbrook Village association following their annual meeting.

Calder outlined various legal actions being pursued by homeowners with roof problems in New Jersey and Virginia, including a class action suit. Defendants in various cases include developers, roofing contractors and manufacturers of the plywood. Homeowners have a statutory warranty of three years from closing, in addition to any actual warranty provided by the developer.

Since no case has yet been decided, legal relief is tenuous, Calder said. Most of the Windsor Green homes, which could be affected, are beyond the three-year warranty; some of the Greenwood Village homes were built by Porten-Sullivan, which has filed for bankruptcy so that suit against the firm would probably be useless.

The most cost-effective option for concerned homeowners, Calder said, was to continue sharing information and have the roof inspected often.

Next Meeting

The next meeting of GEAC will be held at 7:30 p.m. on September 6 at the Hunting Ridge Community Center.

Growing up for Greenbelt

Richard Castaldi was born and raised in Greenbelt. As Greenbelt's first "native son" mayor, Richard couldn't help but know the needs of his town and the concerns of its citizens. That caring continued when he was elected to represent the Fourth Councilmanic District. Since 1982, he has fought vigorously for Greenbelt interests:

- In the 1990-91 budget, he gained $30,000 for Greenbelt recreation programs
- He obtained $20,000 for the Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center
- In 1988-89, he acquired two grants totalling $230,000 for the scheduled community center
- He pushed hard for completion of the Metro line to Greenbelt
- He achieved the transfer of 72 acres of surplus school property and 37 acres of county parkland (Schrom Hills Park) to the city
- He sponsored historic legislation to maintain and protect the city's core as a residential planned community
- He required builders to reserve portions of woodlands in new developments
- He blocked new development unless funding is available for the roads, sewer, police and fire facilities needed to service the development
- He originated newspaper recycling at Metrorail stations

"My re-election will almost certainly be decided in the September 11th Democratic primary. My Bowie opponent is completely unfamiliar with our community's needs and desires. Your vote is vital if I am to continue serving Greenbelt on the County Council."

Lunch Costs

Lunch for elementary school children will cost $1.35 this year; reduced price lunches will be 20c. Milk will be 35c. Lunch for middle and high schoolers will be $1.40. Breakfast in elementary schools will be 90c, in middle and high schools, $1.15; reduced cost breakfasts, 10c.

Expulsion Policy

Strict standards will continue to be upheld for drug, alcohol and weapons (including knives) abuse. Students need to be aware that none of these may be brought to school at any time, and that expulsion will result should this rule be broken. According to the Code of Student Conduct, students will be expelled for the first offense involving the use of or possession of weapons. For incidents involving drugs or alcohol the students will be expelled for the first offense involving distribution and the second offense involving possession. Most of these students are not eligible for readmission to the Prince Georges County school system. Students who are readmitted must remain expelled for at least the remainder of the semester in which the incident occurred and the following full semester. They must also present documentation of satisfactory participation in the alcohol/drug treatment program.

Policy on Medication

The Department of Health Services within the Prince Georges County Public Schools, acting on a recommendation from the state of Maryland, has changed school policy regarding the dispensing of prescription and nonprescription medicines to students.

No medicines will be given to students without a physician's medication authorization form PS-51 or PS-51/EPIPEN. Forms are available at all schools.

Parents are asked to inform the school principal, health services staff, and the classroom teacher of any known allergy or serious health problem their child(ren) may have. Every effort will be made to protect all students from injury and to provide a healthful environment.

Students will be transported by ambulance to the nearest medical facility should he/she require any emergency treatment that cannot be provided at the school site. Parents will be notified as soon as possible.

The United States District Court for the District of Maryland has ruled that the Prince Georges County teacher assignment and transfer policy is constitutional, reasonable and valid.

IF YOU AGREE THAT:

- Your children need some kind of religious education;
- They should be encouraged to approach religious ideas with an open mind and a spiritual awareness;
- They should learn to respect others' religious convictions;

On the Campaign Trail

A heavy downpour last Thursday did not deter County Councilman Richard Castaldi, who is seeking reelection, from greeting early morning commuters on Southway and Ridge.

FIND UNCLAIMED FUNDS

For the first time the State Comptroller's Office will be at the State Fair in Timonium August 25 through September 3, with computer hookups so fairgoers will be able to walk in and check to see if the office has any record of unclaimed funds in their names.

Financial institutions, insurance companies and corporations are required to report bank accounts, contents of safe deposit boxes, wages, insurance benefits, security deposits, stock dividends and other funds to the State Comptroller's Office if they remain unclaimed for five years or more.

Once money is reported to the state as unclaimed, the Comptroller's Office attempts to locate rightful owners by mail and through advertisements in local newspapers. If the money remains unclaimed, it is turned over to the state.

"However, Maryland's law is custodial, meaning that there is no time limit under which the property or its monetary equivalent may be claimed," State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said. "You or your legitimate heirs may claim the funds at any time."

City Councilmember Antoinette "Toni" Bram, a candidate for State Delegate, engages in conversation with prospective voter.

Democrats to Hold Election Night Party

All Democratic candidates from Prince Georges County will be in attendance. All election results will be posted via computer from the Board of Elections from Upper Marlboro. Refreshments will be served.

Police Blotter

Based on Information
Released by the Greenbelt
Police Department

On August 16, while a nonresident was walking in the 6300 block of Ivy Lane, a man drove up, got out of his car, approached the person walking, threatened bodily harm to the person and demanded money. After he got some money, he fled, driving towards Kenilworth Ave. He is described as black, dark complected, around 25 years old, 5'9", 185 lbs., and wearing sweat pants and a tee-shirt. He was driving an orange Pontiac with MD tags, RYA 629.

Responding to a report of a 911 hang-up on August 16 in the 7500 block of Mandan Rd., Pfc. Michael Lanier was met at the door by a male resident, who denied calling for assistance. Pfc. Lanier noticed blood on the man's shirt and scratch marks on his neck, however, so he investigated the situation further and found the man's spouse inside with multiple injuries, apparently as a result of a domestic dispute. The man, 34 years old, was arrested and charged with assault with the intent to maim. He appeared before a District Court Commissioner and was held on $10,000 bond pending trial.

On August 19, Officer Richard Sullivan arrested a 16-year-old nonresident male at the AMC Movie Theaters after the youth threatened another person with what appeared to be a handgun. The youth had a 4.5 mm BB gun, which closely resembles a .45 caliber handgun in his waistband. He was charged with assault and concealing a deadly weapon. Then he was released to his guardian pending action by Juvenile Services.

On August 19, a man hit someone in the head with a glass during an argument at Kangaroo Katie's. Then he tried to leave, in a vehicle driven by someone else. The vehicle hit several people in the parking lot and then stopped once it hit a parked vehicle. The first man, a 26-year-old nonresident, was arrested and charged with assault and battery and resisting arrest. The driver was arrested and charged with two counts of assault and battery (for hitting the people in the parking lot). Both appeared before a District Court Commissioner and were released on their personal recognizance pending trial. No serious injuries were reported.

Responding to a report of a domestic dispute in the 7800 block of Hanover Pkwy. on August 21, Pfc. Michael Lanier attempted to settle the dispute and was assaulted by a 36-year-old female resident. She was then arrested and charged with assaulting a police officer. She appeared before a District Court Commissioner and was held on $1,000 bond pending trial.

Thefts

While investigating a reported theft at the Sports Authority on August 17, Pfc. Robert Dowling arrested a 23-year-old nonresident male who had a marijuana joint; he was charged with possession of drug paraphernalia. The young man was released on a citation pending trial.

On August 18, Pfc. Mathews responded to a report of a breaking and entering in the 7700 block of Hanover Pkwy; someone had removed a screen from a ground floor unit and opened a window. As Pfc. Mathews arrived, another resident found the burglar in front of another unit. The man was arrested and charged with burglary, attempted burglary and possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS). He appeared before a District Court Commissioner and was held on $20,000 bond pending trial.

A wallet was taken from an unattended purse in an office suite in the 7500 block of Greenway Center Dr. on August 20.

Responding to a report of a violent shoplifter attempting to flee Best Products on August 20, Officer Ronald Walter apprehended a 34 year-old nonresident male in the parking lot. As the man had 2 hypodermic syringes on him, he was charged with possession of a hypodermic syringe as well as with theft of a computer. He appeared before a District Court Commissioner and was held on $1,000 bond pending trial.

On August 20 a resident in the 7800 block of Hanover Pkwy. returned home to find that his residence had been broken into. A TV, VCR, camera, and a suitcase had been stolen. Entry had been gained by prying open the front door.

On August 22 a resident in the 6100 block of Breezewood Dr. reported a breaking and entering. Three handguns, ammunition, change and a ring had been stolen. Entry was gained via an open bedroom window.

SWEDISH BOY NEEDS HOME IN OUR COMMUNITY

Jesper from Sweden is anxiously awaiting news that there is a family in the Prince Georges County area who will help fulfill his dream of spending a year in America. Jesper enjoys golf, tennis, music and movies and is hoping to pursue some of these interests during his exchange year. He is also looking forward to developing new 'American' interests and hobbies that he can share with his friends when he returns to Sweden.

Each year, ASSE International Student Exchange programs provide qualified European students with the opportunity to spend an academic year in America attending a local high school and learning about life in America. If your family would help make Jesper's year in the Prince Georges County area possible, please call your local Area Representative, Janet Smith at 301/567-7288 or ASSE's toll free number at 800-333-3802. That's why we've prepared a special booklet entitled, "Planning Ahead," covering such important subjects as the advantages of planning ahead, the importance of a will, and the purpose of a funeral. There are even sections to organize personal biographical, financial and legal information for your family.

House and at Virginia Beach's Neptune Festival. Traditional performers are the enjoyable Shelly's Sparklers and K-Company majorettes. The Roosevelt Raiderettes will be featured in this year's parade.

Community groups which will appear in the parade include the Greenbelt Soccer Association, Friends of the Greenbelt Library, Greenbelt Greens, Greenbelt Clergy Association, Committee to Save the Green Belt, Golden Age Club, Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club Cheerleaders, Greenbelt Kazoo Band, Friends of the Greenbelt Museum, and the Lion's Club Bikes and Trikes.

The Greenbelt American Legion has several parade entries including its color guard marching unit, Gold Star Mothers unit, and its Miss Greenbelt, Deedra Williams. Greenbelt's Volunteer Fire Department units, police cars, flag wavers and balloon carriers round out the parade. The efforts of Parade Chair Michael Donkis and the parade committee, who have been on the track of units for this year's parade from the moment last year's parade ended, have certainly paid off with a parade that should be varied and entertaining.

Carnival and Events

Last week's News Review featured the schedule for the entire Labor Day weekend. During the Festival the schedule will be posted and available at the information Booth. Entertainment will be non-stop on the Festival stage. The carnival will run throughout the weekend with games, rides and food booths, and there are sporting events on the fields and courts of the city. The art show will feature entries of local artists; the photo show affords photographers the opportunity to display their works.

One of the most innovative features of the 1990 Festival is the Salute to Greenbelt Workers. On the giant screen in front of the Festival stage and periodically at the Information Booth, a continuing slide show will feature Greenbelters at work. Greenbelters can see their neighbors, family or themselves.

The children's talent show, the pet show, and special contests appeal to children each year. Many groups have scheduled special activities for the Festival, such as the Greenbelt Museum's Open House and the Community's Church's Luncheon on the Lawn. For a ride to festival events or more information call 982-4019.

Volunteer Enterprise

The Greenbelt Labor Day Festival, in its 36th year, is the largest all-volunteer event of its kind in the State of Maryland. Each year, a volunteer steering committee works in cooperation with local organizations and businesses to bring the Festival to the community. The City of Greenbelt provides much support, from activities planned by the Department of Recreation, to the facilities and services of the Department of Public Works, to assistance from the Greenbelt Police Department. However, the

Recreation Review

A few of the Recreation Department's events during the Festival is a self-supporting, non-profit event which must raise its own funds for entertainment, displays, exhibits, and shows. Throughout the year and especially in the weeks just before Labor Day, volunteers work frantically to put the final touches on the Festival events.

Labor Day festival are: a treasure hunt, gym baseball, table tennis tournament, singles and doubles horseshoe tournament, Golf contest and hot shot contest to name a few plus our ever popular annual men's slow-pitch tournament and GTA tennis tournament. JOE'S TIPS OF THE WEEK

Hello Again!!

As we all know by now that servicing engines with routine oil and filter service is just about the cheapest thing one could do to prolong the engine's life. Case in point this past week we encountered a late model vehicle with about 37,000 miles on it. The main complaint was engine is smoking real bad especially when first started in the morning. Odd to say the least!! I've seen and heard about this type of complaint before. With the mileage on this engine it was hard to believe that an internal engine component had failed but nothing surprises us any more. At this point we removed the valve covers and to no surprise!! they were both full of engine oil. It never drained back down into the crankcase and seeped down into the combustion chambers over night thru the valve guides and this is where the smoking came from. The cylinder heads were so blocked up from sludge from prolonged engine service that it looked like the inside of an engine that had 137,000 miles on it. The fix is to carefully!! remove the sludge to unblock the drain holes and vacuum any little pieces left so premature blocking does not occur, replace both valve cover gaskets and reassemble engine! Next, insist that strict adherence to proper engine service requirements are followed. Engine oil and filter are to be changed every 3 months or 3 thousand miles, whichever occurs first!!

THINK PREVENTIVE MAINTENANCE!!!!
JOE!!
